Born 1986, La Paila, Colombia. Lives and works in London and Colombia. Murillo's paintings are a central component of his expansive practice and form the strong vertebrae of the studio. The machinations of the art market tend to distort. Oscar Murillo's paintings are a central component of his expansive practice and form the strong vertebrae of his studio. His paintings absorb, scour and record a concentration of interests and information compressed in one place. Works in London and La Paila.

